

Acting Schools Studio City

North Hollywood, Hollywood, Glendale, Studio City, Sherman Oaks areas and beyond, and are interested in acting for film, television shows and television commercials, call WBH today to get your career started or further polish your current acting skills. With our award winning classes and workshops, we've helped thousands of adults and children learn the important techniques that get them work within the highly competitive world of film and television.

With everything from film and television shows, including soap opera and TV commercial workshops and voice over classes, we also provide convenient and affordable acting classes for teens and children interested in acting. We insist on limited class sizes and keep our tuition affordable as well. It's just a part of why we are the leading acting workshop/school in the Los Angeles area. No matter what your age, you deserve the opportunity to explore your hidden potential as a performer. Get in touch with us and discover your talent today.

In our classes at WBH we'll help you develop your talent in all areas of on-camera acting. Our school has trained and launched thousands of actors from all over the country. Our experienced instructors include our Executive Director, a veteran, award-winning TV producer, as well as working casting directors. We teach our own method to help you learn to express your own unique style, give you the opportunity to become comfortable performing on-camera and expand your contacts with industry professionals in our agent and casting director showcases.

WORKSHOPS

ON-CAMERA TV COMMERCIAL WORKSHOP

This workshop covers everything you need to win auditions and perform in commercials. Novices and professionals learn at their own level to achieve a truly natural delivery and feel comfortable working on camera with props, cue cards, improvisation, cold reading, the proper approach to interviews, auditions, photographs, unions, agents, effective resume preparation and many other subjects which will help you become more successful. Also included, is a 140 page ten-session textbook. You will perform on camera with videotape playback, and be critiqued in every session.

DVANCED ON-CAMERA COMMERCIAL &IMPROVISATION WORKSHOP

This workshop is designed to give actors constant on-camera practice and intensive coaching. Actors will work on all possible types of commercial auditions with special emphasis on dialogue and no dialogue improvisation, group scenes, doubles, cue card practice, use of blocking, props, building a repertoire of characters, successful interview techniques and more.

TV COMMERCIAL AGENTS AND CASTING DIRECTORS SHOWCASE

In these six-two hour sessions, twelve agents and casting directors give actors an opportunity to receive a professional appraisal of their TV commercial acting technique. The actors get to know and receive instruction from these twelve different casting executives. In many instances actors have been signed and cast as a result of these showcases.

VOICE-OVER WORKSHOP

This workshop helps those with good or unusual voices learn the very special requirements of voice-over work for commercials and other important voice-over opportunities. Emphasis is placed on the actor's individual style in preparation for making an excellent demo tape that will command the attention of agents and casting directors.

ACTING WORKSHOPS

ON-CAMERA TV, FILM, SOAP OPERA, SITCOM WORKSHOPS

These workshops are conducted in our multi-camera video studios for actors who wish to master acting for film, as well as the unique style and requirements of the three camera technique used in night-time and soap opera TV shows. The enrollment is limited so that each actor appears at least twice in on-camera scenes in each session, and is critiqued in depth. Emphasis is placed on mastering cold readings, script and character analysis and auditioning techniques. Your own videotape, directed by the instructor, may be prepared during the workshops. Many new faces have worked in TV and film for the first time due to the professional training received in this workshop. Showcases with agents and casting directors are included with this workshop.

ADVANCED ACTING CONTINUING WORKSHOP

This workshop enables advanced actors to experience continuing on-camera practice and intensive coaching. Scenes from TV shows, films and plays are performed first as cold readings, then worked on until both actor and director feel they are perfected. The workshop is three hours long once a week, and limited to twelve actors so that each works on camera at least twice, and up to four times in every session. Showcases with agents and casting directors are included with this workshop.

For more information please visit

<http://www.weistbarronhillacting.com>